About Us

- At present, there are 5 Professors, 4 Associate Professors 8 Assistant Professors and 4 Research Assistants working for our department and the number of academic staff is increasing gradually.
- The aim of our department is to train historians who can build bridges between past and present, integrate local values with universal values, have historical awareness, and have the ability to handle the issues with scientific methods.

About Us

- Our students, who attend courses on different topics and periods, are trained with the responsibility of being capable historians. Important academic researches and studies continue in the fields of Ancient History, Medieval History, Recent History, History of the Republic of Turkey, and General Turkish History. In academic meetings and discussions, significant issues of history are discussed with scientific methods.

About Us

- Alumni of History Department can work at Institutes of Turkology, Middle Asian, Middle Eastern and Turkish Research centers at several universities in addition to becoming researchers and specialists of their field. Our alumni can be employed as specialists in public and private sector including General Directorate of State Archives and Directorate General of Foundations. Also our alumni who can work at private teaching institutions, have the opportunity to work as teachers at primary and secondary schools.

Our Mission

- The programme of History aims to educate students in the field of history. In so doing, students learn scientific methods with interdisciplinary perspective, become able to approach history critically and analytically. At the end of the education, students will be able to examine both Turkish and world history comparatively.

Our Vision

The goals and objectives of the study in the program of History aims:

- To give students knowledge and understanding in History.
- To provide them with knowledge and experience about archives, libraries, museums, manuscripts and similar sources.
- To have students carry out proper researches and conduct analyses by their own or collectively.
- To enable students to have the ability to develop solutions to problems arisen from social life.
